The Current Situation In Haiti

(Left) People at a local gas station in Cazeau waiting for the pumps to turn back on so they can buy gasoline for their cars, motorcycles and generators. The recent demonstrations caused local businesses to close for two weeks. (Below) Children at Joineau return to school. All of our sponsored schools are open and the children are back in class.

The March Team will distribute food. If you give for food this month we will include your gift in the distributions. You can give for food online at Make a Donation.

In the beginning of February, demonstrations broke out across Haiti. For two weeks, groups of protestors blocked roads and major thoroughfares with tires and debris. They also gathered in key areas to protest the government and President Jovenel Moïse. Even though these protests were localized, they paralyzed the country and caused schools and businesses to temporarily close.

Throughout this time we kept in contact with our pastors and school principals. Thank the Lord, everyone is fine. These protests are an expression of the frustration that everyone in Haiti is feeling. Rising prices and the difficulties of daily life reached a boiling point last month. President Moïse is working to provide an economic and political solution to Haiti's age old problems, but the task is overwhelming.

We believe that there is a spiritual solution. Boys and girls who are getting saved and receiving a Christian education will become the decision makers of the future in Haiti. When you sponsor a child, you become a part of the solution that Haiti needs.

Sponsor a child for $35 a month. Find a child who needs a sponsor at missiontohaiti.org

The Ti Goave Preschool Needs To Be Finished

Work on the preschool building at Ti Goave has gone well, but it needs to be completed. The old tin roof which collapsed has been replaced with a solid concrete structure that will survive the severe weather that southern Haiti tends to get.

We have given Pastor Brucely $4,500 which we have received for this project so far. Pastor Brucely needs $2,500 to complete the building. Your support is greatly appreciated.

Six Wells Repaired

Over the past several months, we have repaired six wells at the schools, the campus clinic and the local community. The wells became dry so new and deeper wells were needed. Boss Chrisner and his men used the shafts from a drilling rig to drill these wells by hand. They were able to drill as deep as 70 feet. These wells are helping many families. Your continued support will help keep these wells repaired.

The Gift Of A Gallon Of Milk

Recently, the mother of one of our sponsored children brought us a special gift: a gallon of fresh milk from their family cow. In Haiti, a gallon of fresh milk will sell for $25, a week's pay for a working man. This mother wanted us to know how grateful she is that her son is sponsored. Your faithful support means a lot to your sponsored family. Please give faithfully.
